

TESTIMONY WAS INDECISIVE.

Captain McCalla Was Examined Further in the Schley Inquiry.

CORRECTNESS OF SCHLEY'S DISPATCH THAT HE COULD NOT OBEY ORDERS

As Officially Printed Testified to by a Cipher Expert. Captain McCalla Said Squadron Never Left Santiago During the Blockade.

Washington, September 28.—In the Schley court of inquiry today Captain McCalla of the Marblehead concluded his testimony, begun yesterday, and the court heard the testimony of Lieutenant Commander W. H. Southard, who commanded the Basie during the Spanish war, and also that of Lieutenant Cassin B. Barnes. The latter is a cipher expert in the navy department and his evidence was devoted to showing that the dispatch from Commodore Schley to the navy department of May 23, 1898, stating that he could not, under his orders, obey the orders of the department, as printed in the official report, was a correct translation of the message as forwarded from the Harvard at Kingston.

Commander Southard explained the condition of the Basie during his campaign and told of the part that vessel played. He said the Basie proceeded north to the cruise to Santiago was due to the fact that the vessel was one-third full of water. He also told of signalling the Basie to inform Commodore Schley that the Spanish squadron was not in the harbor of Cienfuegos.

Captain McCalla said he had suggested to Schley after the battle of Santiago that there was glory enough in the victory for all. Mr. Clayton did not press his request to be allowed to appear as counsel for Admiral Sampson, as he had announced he would do. He wrote a second letter to the court regarding his application and recommending the name of Admiral Sampson's name had been brought into the case, but he left the city later in the day, requesting the court to hold up the matter for the present.

On cross-examination by Mr. Barnes, the witness said he had failed to execute an order from Admiral Ramey, delivered while he was in command of Cienfuegos, directing all ships to be ready to leave the harbor. He said he failed to do so because he was not sure of the exact meaning of the order.

Today's session of the Schley court of inquiry began at 10 o'clock, with the recall of yesterday's witnesses for the purpose of correcting mistakes in their testimony and allowing other questions to be asked them when necessary to make clear any points which had not been sufficiently established. Captain McCalla of the Marblehead during the Spanish war then continued his testimony, which had been begun yesterday.

TO UPHOLD THE LAW. To the Editor of the Advertiser. The article in your issue of September 27, "Mob rule as destructive of all government," affords me the words just spoken by Hon. Adlai B. Stevenson.

TO UPHOLD THE LAW. In the midst of the season of deepest grief, when the heart of a nation is shedding tears of sorrow as perhaps it has never before done for an individual, is not a fitting time to stop to take our bearings that we may know whether we are drifting? With united voice we condemn the individual who was the direct cause of coming the perhaps most benighted and universally loved president, the nation has ever had. But in all sincerity, I want to ask, is Colquhoun alone guilty? Has not the entire nation had a part in this greatest crime of the century? What is accuracy but a distance of law and has not the nation reaped what it has sown? According to a careful record kept by the Chicago Tribune, 2310 persons have been lynched in the United States during the past sixteen years, and every State in the Union except five has had its lynching. A conservative estimate would place the number of persons engaged in these lynchings at about 800 per individual lynched. That these are or have been organized mobs is shown by the fact that they are called "clubs" and "gangs" and are organized in a systematic way. These composing these mobs have lynchings, judges, sheriffs and helped create a disregard for law and authority that, in my mind, has helped to lay the foundation for the great disgrace and disorder that has overtaken the country.
